FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

COMPANY IS FIRST OF ITS KIND IN THE NATION TO LAUNCH WHOLESALE WIRELESS SERVICE

Lightyear Network Solutions, LLC announces launch of Lightyear Wireless Services in the U.S.

Lightyear Network Solutions LLC revealed today that it has launched a wholesale wireless division – the first of its kind. This new division of Lightyear, Lightyear Wireless, will allow its sales force to earn residual income from monthly wireless bills.

Lightyear Network Solutions LLC is a 15-year-old communications company with headquarters based in Louisville, KY. Lightyear Network Solutions has traditionally been a U.S. provider of land line local service, VoIP, T1, PRI and Data Services distributed via Authorized Agents and Representatives.

Lightyear Wireless will offer Representatives and Authorized Agents the opportunity to take advantage of the ever-growing wireless market. Currently, the wireless industry is a $138 billion industry consisting of more than 255 million consumers. Of those 255 million consumers, 95% are each signed onto a two-year contract. Lightyear Wireless will offer similar services that the big wireless carriers currently offer and will start off featuring five brand-named phones/smart phones and soon add more.

John S. “Josh” Henderson IV, president of Lightyear Wireless and senior vice president of sales and marketing for Lightyear Network Solutions LLC, said, “Our Representatives and Agents are very excited at the prospect of offering wireless services to our customers. The Lightyear Wireless product will complement the current stable of wireline products we offer.”

“This wireless project is bigger than anyone can imagine,” said J. Sherman Henderson III, founder, president and chief executive officer of Lightyear Network Solutions LLC. “Wireless communication has become the number one choice for making phone calls and will soon be the lead choice for accessing the Internet. Everyone with a pulse should be jumping at this business opportunity.”
